

BECOME A SHELTER ALLY.

You can help homeless pets in your community by getting involved with your local shelter. Your support can make an enormous impact and help further lifesaving efforts in your area. Here's how you can help:

Support lifesaving shelter programs.

Are there programs at your local shelter that are already saving lives? By supporting those efforts, you can help extend your community's lifesaving reach.

Share the good news.

Let everyone know what your community's shelter is doing well and get them involved so they, too, can help save lives. You can share positive, solution-oriented posts on social media, educate folks about all the good work that's happening at your shelter, and bring awareness to all the different ways that they can be part of the lifesaving.

Ask questions.

Find out where assistance is needed the most by asking the staff at your local shelter where they could use some extra helping hands.

Have fun.

Shelter work can sometimes be difficult and emotionally draining, which is why it's important to have fun and keep up a positive attitude.

Amazing things are possible when communities and shelters are united around a common goal. By working together and building supportive, positive relationships with our shelters, we can change the future for homeless pets throughout the country and Save Them All.
