Introducing "FLIGHTY NEWS AND VIEWS"

Above: Fortune and Nimbus are busy at work on their first editorial!

Hello, I'm Nimbus, with Fortune who's my sweetheart, and we're the new joint editors of Flighty News and Views, good news for all you bird lovers, from Feathered Friends.

Our editorial office is right here on our new pond, and if you haven't sat on a cool pond on a hot day, then you should know right now (or "write now," as we editors say) that ponds are the absolutely best kind of place to do some serious writing.

We'd like to say thank you very much to all you bird-lovers who helped to bring us here, and now we'd like to keep you in touch with everything that's flying around here at Feathered Friends.

Flighty News and Views will be just a page full of good bird news from Feathered Friends, and Fortune and I will be sharing some special tips and little features for your birds at home.

So, just remember that we birds of a feather must fly together, and send a stamped self-addressed envelope to Best Friends Animal Sanctuary, Kanab, Utah 84741, with a note saying "Dear Nimbus and Fortune, Please send me a copy of Flighty News and Views."

Bye for now,

Nimbus the Goose

P.S. We're trying to persuade the pigeons, who live next to our office/pond to help out by flying your "Flighty News and Views" directly to your home. So if you see a pigeon looking for you, ask if he's from Feathered Friends. You never know! 🐾
